Best Workplaces™
in Taiwan

Inspiring is one of the high-trust leadership behaviors that can build trust in the workplace.

Fostering a culture of Inspiration starts with leading by example. It's sowing seeds of ideas that resonate with the individuals and multiply to the collective of the organization.

In the workplace, being inspired is being "in-spirit" with the company's values and mission, while with your words and actions inviting the whole team to do the same.

Inspiration is active and organic, always in motion.

We want to celebrate you for being an inspiring company, and one of the Best Workplaces™ in Taiwan
